What is BuilderScrap?

BuilderScrap helps you to help your customers.

If you've ever been confronted with customers trying to return product that you cannot accept because it's a special order, it's only half a pallet or your suppliers won't accept returns then BuilderScrap offers a free service to your customers as an alternative disposal route to using the skip.

With the rising cost of skips and the increased taxation year on year to send materials to landfill, your customers are looking for cheaper alternative routes to dispose of their excess materials.

What can it do for my business and my clients?

With your customers customers' demanding more sustainable construction and waste minimization initiatives showing that your company is actively engaged in finding environmental and waste reduction solutions working with BuilderScrap can only enhance your image with your customers.

BuilderScrap.com is a simple, effective and easy to use platform designed to save you time and increase awareness of your reusable materials to other construction companies and community projects.

To date there have been few, if any, ways for a company to show their credentials and prove they are actively involved with a materials reuse strategy. However BuilderScrap is to change this by creating a new membership program for the supply chain seeking to substantiate their activity levels in this area.

How much will it cost me to get involved?

Total cost for annual membership is based on company turnover per annum as follows:

- Up to £1 million £100.00 and 20% discount for Unimer members
- £1-5 million £250.00 and 20% discount for Unimer members
- £5-£25 million £1000.00 and 20% discount for Unimer members
